AMTRAK TAKES YOU TO THE ULTIMATE SHOPPING CENTER - DOWNTOWN CHICAGO

Amtrak takes you to the heart of Chicago, where fabulous shopping is within walking distance, or just a short cab or bus ride away.

Chicago is one of the world's best cities for shopping. You can spend days in the many department stores, sophisticated boutiques, art galleries, bookstores, and specialty shops.

STATE STREET MALL

Great spots for shoppers start with State Street Mall and continue up North Michigan Avenue, over to the stylish Rush Street area between Walton and Division. Further north lie the trendy shops of the Lincoln Park and Sheffield neighborhoods.

WATER TOWER PLACE

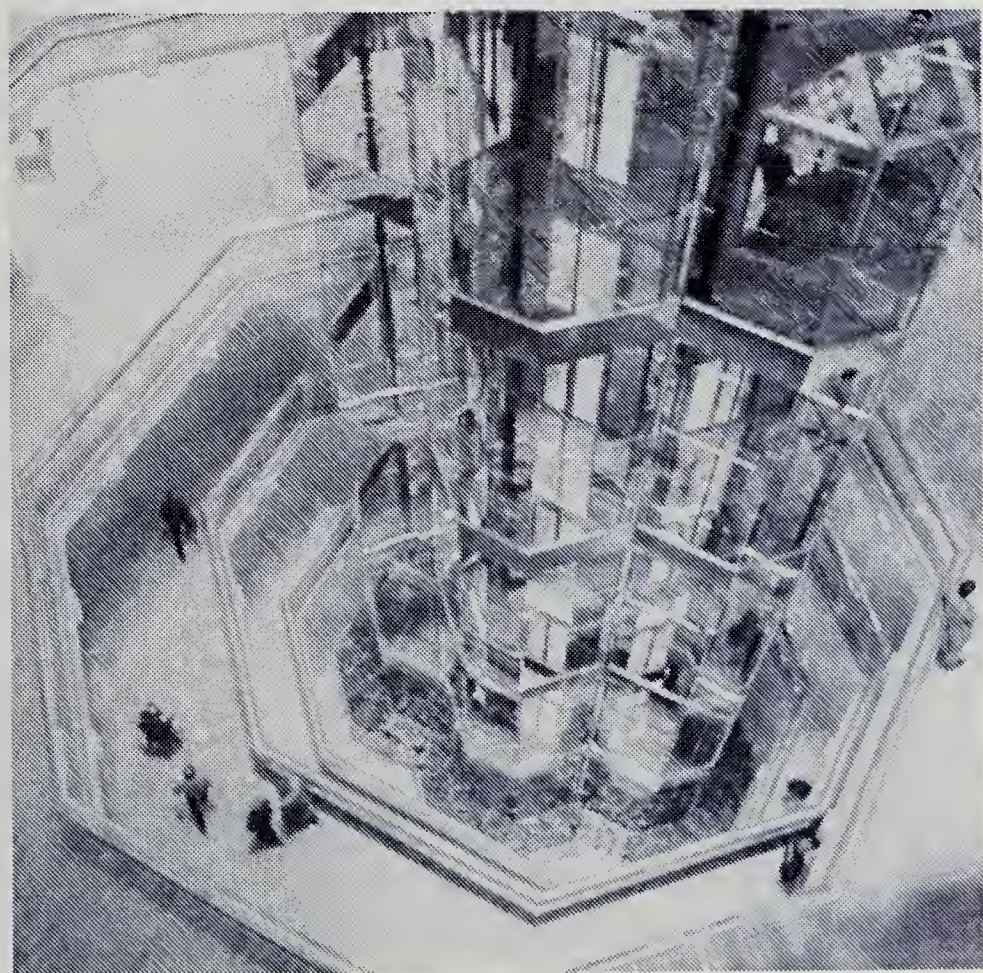

The famous Water Tower Place on North Michigan Avenue bustles with floors of shops, restaurants, and theaters. Nearby are the salons of the gallery district, which feature both U.S. and foreign artists.

AND IT'S SO EASY TO GET AROUND! CONSULT THE MAP INSIDE FOR ORIENTATION.

To walk to the State Street Mall from Amtrak's Union Station, just go east seven blocks on Adams Street. By public transportation, board an eastbound #151 CTA bus on southbound Canal Street.

Water Tower Place can be reached, for a dollar or less, by boarding an eastbound #151 bus on southbound Canal Street. On the way you pass through the State Street Mall, then this bus turns northbound on Michigan Avenue to Water Tower Place. You can also board a northbound #125 Express bus on Canal Street (this bus operates Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 6:20 p.m. only).

NEIGHBORHOOD SHOPPING

Shoppers need not travel to foreign lands to find wonderful gifts from around the world. The shoppers who explore any of Chicago's ethnic neighborhoods will find that each has its own stores, shops, and restaurants that reflect the character of the native land. Among these neighborhoods are Polish, Indian, German, Lithuanian, Jewish, Cuban, Chinese, Swedish, and Korean. The CTA's vast system of buses and rapid transit trains will take you to any corner of the city.
